KNOTTY FOR CENSUS

Difficult to Enumerate Apartment Dwellers.

TIME EXTENDED TWO DAYS

Woman Tells of Trouble Met with and How She Worked Night and Day to Get Names that Her Average Salary of Less Than $5 Cents a Day—Many Calls Necessary.

Census work in the District is being delayed by the difficulty of enumerators in getting interviews at apartment houses. Supervisor William S. Broughton found it necessary to extend the time of ten enumerators two days. The ten enumerators assigned to apartment house districts have been instructed to submit their data to-night.

There are a great many more apartment houses in Washington than ten years ago, when the last census was taken. Among the apartments a woman enumerator obtained only thirty-five names in two days, representing a salary of about $5 cents. The habit of "being out" is blamed by her. Notes left on doors or in mail boxes by enumerators frequently received no attention.

Even Servants Are Scarce. The enumerator seldom found a servant in apartments, while in houses occupied by only one family, servants nearly always answered a summons at the door.

The "worst" apartment districts, from the standpoint of enumerators, are in the northwest, and one cites Thomas circle and the southern approach to the Connecticut avenue bridge, as places hard to "handle."

Several enumerators were forced to devote a day to one apartment house, and then would fail to obtain every name. It was necessary for them to devote nights to the work, while they were supposed to work but eight hours a day.

Many Calls Necessary. "It is hard to explain the difficulties which enumerators have experienced in apartment houses," said Supervisor Broughton, "but they have been almost insurmountable barriers in the work."

"One enumerator said he would prefer tracking a foot single-handed to entering an apartment for the purpose of taking census."

"Several enumerators were compelled to all at one apartment four and five times to obtain the names of its occupants. It seemed almost impossible to make an appointment with the occupants, and the only hope of the enumerator was to wait, be patient, and watch for his chance."

CANAL LABOR AGENTS HERE.

Seek Restoration of Longevity Pay Inaugurated by Roosevelt.

American laborers on the Panama Canal will launch another campaign in Congress for the restoration of the longevity pay given them by President Roosevelt.

In the sundry civil appropriation bill, which went into effect last June, this pay was ended by Congress, and legislative agents, representing the locomotive engineers, railroad conductors, and steamship men are in Washington in endeavor to convince the House that it would be only justice to restore it.

It is estimated that the restoration of the longevity pay would increase the cost of the canal several millions of dollars.

FIGHT OVER A PATENT.

Every Prospect of Prolonged Litigation Over Duplicating Machines.

Samuel A. Neldich, president of the Neldich Process Company, of Burlington, N. J., and inventor of the "hexotype" duplicating machine, has brought suit in the United States Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania against J. Adolph Edwards, trading as the Philadelphia Multiplying and Mailing Company, for infringement of the Neldich patent, No. 690,312, dated December 28, 1899.

Arthur E. Paige, of Philadelphia, representing the Neldich Process Company, states that this suit was brought to prevent the use of a duplicating machine known as the "multigraph," purchased by Mr. Edwards from the American Multiplying Company, agents for the American Multiplying Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, and that all judicial decisions heretofore rendered have been in favor of the validity of said letter patent, that question having been raised in the present suit and in a preceding suit, on demurrer.

He further stated that it is his client's intention to bring such other suits under the same and other letters patent of the United States as may be necessary to prevent further infringement of the patent rights of the Neldich Process Company relating to the "hexotype" duplicating machine.

URGE STABILITY IN POLICE-FIRE FUND

District Officials Favor the Smith Retirement Plan.

Advocates of a permanent retirement fund for the District police and fire departments expressed their views yesterday morning at a hearing on the Smith bill before the District Committee of the House.

The retirement fund is now derived from Police Court fines and assessments upon the beneficiaries. The Smith bill provides that when this source of revenue is insufficient, licenses paid to the District may be drawn upon. The bill authorizes pensions of from $50 per month, for private, to $150 per month for the chiefs of the two departments.

District Commissioners Rudolph and Johnston, Maj. Richard Sylvester, chief of police; Sgt. Curry, of the Sixth precinct; Private C. E. Smith, of the Second precinct; Fire Chief Wagner, and John Kane, a retired fireman, appeared.

Both Commissioners advocated the provision in the bill to keep retired firemen and policemen on a reserve list for service in time of emergency. The bill, they said, made possible a stable fund, not a fluctuating one dependent upon the fines collected from offenders arrested by the police.

Mad. Sylvester favored the bill, and said that the pension fund at present is not always equal to the demands made upon it. Sgt. Curry and Policeman Smith told the committee that the police advocated the bill, but wanted an amendment providing for automatic retirement after twenty years of service, instead of twenty-five, as the bill provides.

AUTODEALERS WILL ORGANIZE

Local Merchants Selling Automobiles Start an Association.

Its Prime Objects Are Protection of Members from Undue Rivalry by Inferior Cars.

Steps were taken to form an association of the automobile dealers of Washington at a meeting of most of the men interested yesterday at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was called by the invitation of W. J. Stoddard and W. C. Long. Mr. Stoddard was made temporary chairman and Mr. Long secretary.

The object of the meeting was explained by Mr. Stoddard, and he spoke at some length upon the advantages of becoming associated for purposes of common protection and of reducing the trade to a more compact and systematic basis.

Several of the dealers present also spoke upon the general desirability of the proposed organization and pledged their individual support to the movement.

By vote, it was determined by those present to form the proposed association, and the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of five, including himself, to draft a plan of organization and to present at a meeting called for the purpose of the draft of a suitable constitution and by-laws to govern the body.

Mr. Stoddard announced that he would name the committee within the next day or two and communicate the fact to the appointees.

The dealers in the organization will be those doing business with Washington machines included in the so-called Seldon patents, which means the underlying system of operating mechanical cars by the gasoline engine. One of the chief reasons for the organization is to bring the dealers of this class of machines together, with a view to enlarging the business of selling these machines and as far as possible of discouraging the sales of rival, and, it is said, inferior machines in this market.

The association will probably be called the Licensed Automobile Dealers of Washington.

Eighteen years ago Washington won from New York on the subject of the relative good accomplished by the independence war and the French revolution.

A Guaranteed SELZ ROYAL BLUE

$3.50 and $4.00 the Pair.

What a Guarantee Means.

Nearly every article sold to-day is guaranteed—shoes especially.

A certain dealer will tell you that "if these shoes are not satisfactory, bring 'em back, and I'll refund your money." That sounds good, doesn't it? But when the shoes he recommended commenced to torture your poor feet—when you hated to stand up, even—did you ever get your money back? Not often.

Now, that wasn't the dealer's fault, for he had to look to the manufacturer "to make good," and well he knew that most manufacturers' guarantees were merely "bluffs." That isn't the way with SELZ, however. Every pair of SELZ Shoes has a written guarantee, and if by any chance they should go wrong, WE are authorized to make it right with you—and then SELZ makes good to US. SELZ does this, because only once in a long while a pair of his shoes may not give absolute satisfaction.

This is the sign of good shoes. See that it is on your next pair.
